

From what I understand, this will give anyone who has an existing or previous business relationship with will have the ability to call me anytime in order to "cross-sell" other products. The protection our state AD has provided us great relief from the almost endless calls that came before it's enactment. If this law were to be weakened, I would almost certianly be forced to cancel my land-line, and go completely cellular due to this inconvenience.